

I support RM-10352. It is long past time to provide protection for narrow modes on the 160M band, as long been the case for all other HF and VHF bands.